

Dave Dempsey NOTIS Reunion bio

Left NOTIS in Aug 1995, after over 6 years, to work at Endeavor Information Systems.

Job titles, responsibilities and departments changed a bit over time: Sales Support Engineer, Sr. Sales Support Engineer, Sr. Engineer, Team Lead Installations, Team Lead Product Release and Integration Group, Manager of same, Manager of Cloud Infrastructure where key success was migrating Ex Libris' Primo to AWS's Cloud and making it 24/7 with uptimes exceeding 99.995%, Sr. Systems Engineer, Hosting.

In January 2013, I left Ex Libris after 17+ years, and 23+ years in library automation for Intelligent Medical Objects, which is in the health informatics realm. Titles have included: Sr. DBA, Manager Cloud Operations and Management, and currently, Staff Site Reliability Engineer. Was DBA with primary responsibility to migrate all IMO's databases from Oracle to PostgreSQL. That was a fun couple of years of my life.

Personal:

Married 2000, have three daughters (2001, 2004, 2005).

In 2011, I became a 3rd class knight in the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, the oldest order of chivalry and the 3rd oldest religious order of the Roman Catholic church.

In 2018, became a 2nd class knight and in 2022 was elected to the board of directors for the American Association of the Order.
